"The USA at War Before Pearl Harbor"-This program documents the prelude to war, and describes military action by the US Military PRIOR to the Pearl Harbor Attack (December 7, 1941). American lives were lost at the hands of the AXIS powers as early as 1937. This program shows how America was drawn, step by step, into the devastation of World War II.

"Women, Children, & Minorities in World War II – A Total Effort"- America's response to the attack on Pearl Harbor was to mobilize the ENTIRE POPULATION into active service in defense of freedom. Women, children, and Americans of "minority status" all contributed mightily in this world wide struggle between freedom and tyranny.

"American Heroes of World War II – The Boy Next Door"-The stories of American World War II heroes are fascinating to consider. Their deeds of patriotic valor show the price that some must pay to defend freedom. This program will document some of the most amazing stories relating to "the boy next door" who heard and accepted the call to arms.
