

Point Breeze Credit Union Donates $10,000 to the Veteran's Armory Project

Donation to Veteran's Armory Project will help provide much-needed shelter for veterans and their families

HUNT VALLEY, Md. – July 11, 2017 – Point Breeze Credit Union recently donated $10,000 to the Veteran's Armory Project.

The donation from Point Breeze will be used towards the development of the county's first Veterans Service Center for veterans and their families. The donation will fund the assessment of site conditions at the former U.S. Army Reserve at 412 Malcom Drive, to determine what repairs the building may need completed to operate as the housing shelter. The center will provide on-site services including access to medical care, transportation and connections to job training and educational help. It will also provide temporary shelter for Veterans experiencing homelessness and their families.

"The new center will provide essential services to our veterans that will truly change their lives. Veterans will be able to receive important services for free. We are very grateful for the support that Point Breeze has provided to help local veterans. The donation speaks to the heart of Point Breeze and their commitment to the community, our county and our veterans," said Frank Valenti, Chair of the Veterans Advisory Council.

The donation was made as Point Breeze recently expanded into Carroll County with a new office in Westminster, Md.

"As a community focused credit union, it is our mission to give back to our neighbors," said Brenda Fisher, manager of Point Breeze Credit Union's Westminster location. "The VAC provides outstanding services to the veterans who have served our country and we are thankful for the opportunity to help end homelessness of veterans."

Point Breeze Credit Union's new Westminster office, located at 405 Englar Road, offers the latest in banking innovations for more personalized service and advanced technology to help members achieve their financial goals.
